Sector and Department Annual Reviews
I would like to praise the great efforts of Dubai Chamber of Commerce in recording remarkable achievements that highly contribute to the economic development of the Emirate of Dubai in particular and the UAE in general. We in the Ministry of Economy is dealing with the Dubai Chamber of Commerce as a strategic partner in order to unify efforts to support the economic welfare of the national economy.

The various challenges that faced the UAE economy has proven its strength in dealing with the global financial crisis, due to the wise economic policies and the leadership’s emphasis on diversification and its keenness to achieve comprehensive development at all vital sectors in the country.

The diversification policy of the UAE has highly supported the development of the non-oil sectors and its contribution to the GDP where it reached 67% in 2008, highlighting the diversification policies that reduced the dependency on the oil sectors. Our leadership was very keen since the start of the global crisis in 2008 to take concerted efforts to meet the challenges arising from the financial crisis. Several practical steps were initiated include guaranteeing bank deposits for three years and injecting liquidity into the banking system whereby AED 120 billion has been earmarked by the UAE Central Bank and the Ministry of Finance.

The success of the UAE’s Federal experience contributed to building an ideal and civilized country that enjoys a privileged position at the regional and global levels and retains the confidence of major global economies.

Dubai Chamber Annual Report 2009

Chairman’s Review

As an international business hub, Dubai plays a key role in facilitating commerce and ensuring global economic stability. In times of adversity there is also great potential, and under the visionary leadership of the rulers of UAE, the country continues to be one of the strongest economies in the world.

The Government of Dubai confronted the global economic challenges of 2009 with sincerity and determination, creating a prosperous business environment for all. Through the Advisory Council, the Government of Dubai thoroughly assessed the economic climate and the development of industries such as finance, real estate, and banking. Such work is absolutely crucial to ensuring the long-term growth of the UAE economy.

With a renewed sense of purpose and dedication, the business community was able to use the Council’s insights to identify value in the market. Transparency was increased as a result of greater financial scrutiny. Instances of irresponsible spending were reduced in favour of sustainable development.

New international partnerships were made to ensure that future projects remain in line with the highest global development standards. Dubai Chamber supported such initiatives by providing a host of new services and products to the market, making it easier for businesses to share their ideas and achieve overall success.

At Dubai Chamber, our outlook for 2010 is one bright with opportunity. Thinking strategically and acting knowledgeably has attracted international investors to Dubai for decades, and with solid economic foundations in place, there is no limit to how much we can achieve in the coming year.

Abdul Rahman Saif Al Ghurair
Chairman
Dubai Chamber of Commerce & Industry
The extraordinary economic events of 2009 provided the Dubai business community with the chance to reassert itself on the international stage. Despite the global economic challenges, businesses in Dubai were able to move forward with a fresh sense of purpose and direction. In our mission to represent, support, and protect the interests of the business community in Dubai, we decided that one of the ways the Chamber could bring greater value to its members was by expanding our role as an indispensable source of economic and legal information.

Greater communication between Dubai Chamber and its members was at the top of the agenda. A newly-created department within the Chamber was active in developing new business groups and conducting smaller, more frequent roundtable discussions. The first ever Dubai Business Gala was also an incredible success in bringing together over 1,200 business professionals from around the globe.

Our economic research and analysis teams were asked to look at ways in which we could increase the transparency of the market. The Chamber brought on additional staff to expand its research capacity, and a number of new publications were developed to focus on specific markets and trends.

The Chamber’s legal services were also in high demand during 2009. Innovative training seminars and new legal products proved popular among local businesses, and the Chamber received an average of more than 100 requests a day for its information services. As new economic policy was developed in UAE and the rest of the world, the Chamber was also busy reviewing legislation dealing with issues such as Business Competition and the Regulation of Auditors.

Along the way we’ve never lost sight of what it means to be a responsible organization. Dubai Chamber received several awards for its work in developing CSR campaigns in 2009, most notably as the first building in the Arab world to achieve LEED green building certification.

These and other initiatives within Dubai Chamber are discussed in detail in the following pages. Whether you’re an investor, a business owner, or just interested in learning more about the Dubai economic outlook, I encourage you to take a moment to flip through this Annual Report to get an idea of how Dubai Chamber supports the development of business in Dubai.

Membership Relations

Dubai Chamber works on behalf of thousands of businesses across Dubai and connects these entities within a single economic forum. By maintaining close dialogue with these groups, the Chamber is able to create a more favourable business environment and stimulate economic growth. The information in this section highlights some of the ways in which the Chamber has expanded its work in 2009 to better represent the interests of the Dubai business community.

Business Councils and Business Groups

Building a stronger relationship with the Dubai business community was at the top of the Chamber’s agenda during 2009. As a link between the government and the private business community, Dubai Chamber represents the collective voice of businesses in Dubai. Communication between the Chamber and its members is primarily hosted through established business councils and business groups. These entities not only facilitate cooperation between Dubai Chamber and its member organizations, but strengthen interaction between local companies. The business councils are organized by country while the business groups are structured according to industry specialization.

In recognition of the extraordinary economic events of 2009, the Chamber wanted to build closer cooperation with its membership organizations and make sure that all of their concerns were being addressed in a timely and efficient manner. In previous years, each of Dubai Chamber’s individual departments would interact with the business community depending on the issue at hand. While these relationships still exist, the Chamber restructured some of its internal operations in order to enhance external affairs from a single internal unit, the External Relations Department. This newly expanded team was able to increase the Chamber’s interaction with the business community and assist members in overcoming the challenges of 2009.

The Chamber also saw the addition of four new business groups: Dubai Maritime Group, Emirates Environmental Group, The Electronics Group, and Dubai Private Schools Group.

There are currently 35 business councils and 24 business groups under the auspices of Dubai Chamber.

Roundtable Discussions

Roundtable discussions provide a significant opportunity for Dubai Chamber to connect with business leaders and assess the challenges facing the overall economy. Given the economic challenges of 2009, the Chamber decided to implement new initiatives to improve roundtable dialogue.

Roundtables are now held on a quarterly basis and are set up between the Chamber and each of its membership entities. These discussions are specific to individual business councils as well as business groups, and are much more personal than in previous years. Cooperative action plans are now reviewed and updated on a more routine basis. Individual businesses can request more regular, private meetings with Dubai Chamber to evaluate economic trends. Members can even request the Chamber to set up one-on-one meetings with other businesses within the Chamber. These and other initiatives will continue to be developed in 2010 as Dubai Chamber receives more and more roundtable feedback from its membership.

Sustainable Business Development

Dubai Chamber recognizes that the most successful businesses today are those that foster values of integrity and social responsibility. For this reason, the Chamber has set up several programs to help members grow their business while cultivating best practices every step of the way.

Business Support

Part of the Chamber’s work focuses specifically on developing the business capacity of its members. By identifying trade opportunities and communicating such issues to members, the Chamber is able to strengthen the Dubai business community by capitalizing on opportunities in the market.

Within the area of business development, the Chamber successfully conducted 15 events in 2009 including four seminars, four trainings, one intensive training and six roundtables. Ten of these events were offered to Chamber members free of charge.

In order to recognize the exceptional performance of SMEs in Dubai, the Chamber established the “SME Exporter of the Quarter” recognition at the beginning of 2009. Given out on a quarterly basis, the recognition highlights the work of SMEs who achieve record export volumes while demonstrating a commitment to responsible business growth.

The Centre for Responsible Business

The Centre for Responsible Business (CRB) within Dubai Chamber was established in 2004 to create a more responsible business community by raising awareness of CSR and assisting businesses in addressing the broad environmental, ethical, and social aspects of their everyday operations.

Over 130 companies participated in the 13 events held by the Centre during 2009. These included discussions such as Investing in Community Healthcare, Principles for the Finance Industry, and Sustainable Human Resource Management.

The “Dubai Responsible Business Dialogue” was a new event hosted by the Centre in 2009 highlighting the clear need for a business-led conference on CSR in Dubai. The dialogue included a CEO roundtable and participation from CSR Europe, Business in the Community (BITC), Ministry Officials, and leadership organizations including the Executive Council. The conference’s main goal was to foster responsible business practices among SMEs.
was to build an action plan for CSR in Dubai that is developed for and led collaboratively by the Dubai business community.

The Centre was also successful in launching an annual CSR report for the Dubai business community titled “Winds of Change: The State of Corporate Social Responsibility in Dubai, 2008”. This year’s report showed that CSR continues to gain momentum among local companies, government entities and civil institutions. The challenge in 2008 was that most companies were just beginning to learn about the concept of CSR, implementing practices only when it helped immediate or short-term goals. In response, the government pursued a number of strategic initiatives to help businesses identify long-term solutions and set up CSR programs throughout the country.

Another new project in 2009 was the development of a new CSR Label in cooperation with the firm Corporate Citizenship. This framework is benchmarked to international standards and will be released in 2010 as a catalyst for CSR improvement in the region.

The Centre’s Engage Dubai programme—the UAE’s first corporate employee volunteering program—saw a positive first year since being established in November 2008. Bringing together business and community organizations to increase civic engagement, the program arranged new volunteer opportunities with three community partners, received 11 letters of intent from companies wishing to join the effort, and mobilized a total of 27 corporate volunteers during 2009.

In addition to publishing six CRB newsletters (titled CSR Al Youm), the Centre completed eight research reports during the year focusing on issues like Consumer’s View of CSR, Green Supply Chain in Dubai, and CSR among SME’s in Dubai.

The Centre also built two new partnerships with UNICEF and Business for Social Responsibility to provide further resources to the Dubai market.

Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum Business Award

The Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum Business Award was launched in 2005 to recognize and celebrate the work of organizations contributing to the UAE’s economic success. The Chamber assists businesses in analyzing their current performance and aligning their management techniques with international best practices. The Award provides an opportunity for participating organizations to gain experience through institutional self-analysis and benefit from other participants’ experiences.

Specifically, the award seeks:

- To recognize, reward and celebrate businesses which have contributed and continue to contribute to the economic prosperity of the UAE.
- To facilitate participating companies engage in organizational learning through self analysis.
- To enable participating companies to benchmark with the relevant best practices.

“Corporate Social Responsibility” and “Supply Chain & Logistics” were added as two new categories in the most recent MRM round. A total of 234 organizations applied for the award, a 12% increase from the previous round.

In 2009, the following Fourth Round Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum Business Award winners were recognized:

Economic Research and Analysis

Dubai Chamber is an indispensible source for reliable business information in the UAE. By investigating recent issues and profiling economic sectors, the Chamber helps businesses understand market trends locally, regionally and internationally. Detailed below are a few of the ways in which the Chamber brought new and relevant insight into the Dubai market during 2009.

Research Studies

During 2009, research reports concentrated on diagnosing the impact of the financial crisis on Dubai and the UAE. These reports highlighted proposed policy measures as well as international legislation regarding the crisis. Looking beyond the financial crisis, research also explored a number of specific sectors, innovative business practices, and global investment opportunities.

In total, Dubai Chamber conducted 47 research studies during 2009.

Major publications included:

Economic Surveys

This year Dubai Chamber conducted a total of eight economic surveys which were presented in external publications and used internally to assess Chamber operations and objectives. Many of these surveys were updated on a monthly or quarterly basis, although others like the Corporate Community Involvement Survey were a one-time review.

Dubai Chamber also launched a new Monthly Business Leaders Panel Survey to better understand the outlook of private businesses and their opinions on government legislation. These surveys have been submitted to the Chamber’s management and Board of Directors for further review and will continue to be conducted in 2010.

Economic surveys conducted in 2009 included:

- Dubai Traders Outlook Survey
- Corporate Community Involvement Survey
- Green Purchasing Survey
- Monthly Business Leaders Panel Survey
- Beyond Philanthropy: Corporate Community Involvement in Dubai
- Impact of Global Financial Crisis on Lending in the Construction Sector of Dubai
- Price of Fresh Food Items (monthly)

- Price of Consumer Goods and Services (quarterly)

Three seminars were arranged by the Chamber to present the findings of these economic surveys.

Information Services

Dubai Chamber archives an extraordinary amount of information in its electronic library, providing the latest statistic and economic data collected from a variety of reference sources. As a source for reliable business information, the Chamber receives a huge amount of requests for economic data.

In 2009, the Chamber provided a total of 29,429 information services to customers. It was also the first year in which Dubai Chamber collected detailed customer data in order to highlight where requests were coming from and from which sectors of the economy. It was revealed for instance, that nearly three times as many requests were coming from Europe than from Africa, and that twice as many services were requested from walk-in customers than by fax. Such details will continue to be collected in upcoming years to help the Chamber provide better services to the public.

New Products in 2009

In light of the global economic recession beginning in 2008, Dubai Chamber knew that the need for economic transparency would be even greater in 2009. After consulting with Chamber members, a series of new research products were developed and launched in 2009 in order to detail up-to-the-minute economic trends.

The Dubai Chamber Economist is a biweekly, web-based publication that provides analysis of economic issues that are relevant to Dubai and the greater UAE. A total of 18 issues were published in 2009.

The Dubai Chamber Market Tracker provides up-to-date information on UAE money, capital and product markets, all presented in a monthly web publication. Six editions were prepared in 2009.
In looking at Dubai’s main economic sectors, the Chamber published a series of ten Sector Sheets profiling the latest challenges and advances made within those sectors.

CASE STUDY
Dubai Chamber Economist

The Dubai Chamber Economist provides detailed analysis on the very latest economic data, events and general issues that are of interest to the business community. The intention of the publication is to be a comprehensive 15-20 minute read highlighting hot topics and concerns of the business community in Dubai and the UAE as a whole. As a biweekly publication, it is an invaluable resource for up-to-the-minute coverage of market trends.

With so much new information being collected by Dubai Chamber, the Exporter’s Guide was created to help Dubai and UAE exporters identify trade and investment opportunities in potential new markets. A total of 23 countries were profiled in the 2009 guide, which will be updated every year with new information as well as new countries.

Commercial & Legal Services

Dubai is one of the most diverse and multicultural business communities in the world, sitting at the crossroads of Asia, Africa and Europe. Dubai Chamber supports the development of such business by offering a number of commercial and legal services to companies operating in the UAE.

Policy Advocacy

Dubai Chamber spends a great deal of time reviewing legislative issues and evaluating the impact of such legislation on the Dubai business community. In fact, any new UAE law or amendment concerning economic policy is reviewed by the Chamber. Existing legislation can also be brought forth for review by Chamber members. Legislation is reviewed in detail as information is packaged and then presented to relevant government parties. Depending on the issue and its jurisdiction, these review committees are made up of specialized business people, law experts, and government representatives.

In 2009, the Chamber studied and evaluated the following 19 legislative drafts:

1. The Companies Law
2. Maritime Law
3. Business Competition Law
4. Commercial fraud Law
5. Law pertaining to Auditors
6. Law pertaining to government procurements contracts in Dubai
7. Law pertaining to trade in precious metals and Jewellery
8. Foreign investment Law
9. Labor Law
10. Land Transport Law
11. Guaranteeing inter banking deposits
12. Guaranteeing Bank Securities
13. Public Debt
14. The By-laws of Sectoral Committees of the Executive Council of Dubai
15. Public Revenues
16. Preferential Government Purchases of Domestic Products
17. Amendments of the Commercial Agencies Law

CASE STUDY
UAE and Rotterdam Convention

Late in 2009 the UAE was considering joining the UN Convention on Contracts for the International Carriage of Good by Sea (Rotterdam Convention). Before that could be done, the UAE government needed to determine how such a convention would work in harmony with UAE laws, especially with the Maritime law, and what impacts such convention would have on the UAE business community particularly the shipping industry. Dubai Chamber was actively involved with other pertinent parties in reviewing said conventions in cooperation with maritime law experts, representatives from the business community, and economic Analysts.
Credit Rating Services

As the credit crisis was reaching its peak in 2009, companies around the world sought enhanced transparency as they mitigated financial risks and carefully identified their business partners. Dubai Chamber played a significant role in promoting information sharing and risk assessment within Dubai through its Credit Rating Services. These services are open to all members and non-members worldwide.

Last year the Chamber received an enormous amount of rating requests and catered to a total of 528 inquiries, including Business Reports, Rating Opinions and Quality Labels. The revenues earned in 2009 accounted for a 41% increase compared to 2008.

In 2009, Dubai Chamber signed an MOU with EmCredit, the UAE’s first government-backed credit bureau, on raising awareness on the role of credit information in facilitating trade credit between businesses.

As part of its mission to support and protect the interests of the business community—especially during the economic turbulence of 2009—Dubai Chamber released its “5,000 Rating Reports” to provide critical baseline information on the most active 5,000 Dubai-based enterprises drawn from the Chamber’s database.

Credit information delivery speed was also increased by 40% for urgent inquiries. Companies can now come to the Chamber to obtain the latest information and credit assessments on any company worldwide in a timely fashion.

Documentation Services

Dubai Chamber works in various capacities to authenticate trade credentials on behalf of the business community. This involves the issuing of Certificates of Origin, authenticating export documents, and preparing statistical reports which show the volume of exports and re-exports.

Overall, the volume of exports from Chamber members was over AED 186 billion during 2009, with the number of export markets increasing to 163 in November, the highest number of export destinations in 2009.

Dispute Mediation

CASE STUDY
Guidelines Certificates of Origin in Arabic

The ICC World Chambers Federation produces detailed guidelines on the issuing of Certificate of Origin (COOs) internationally. These guidelines are published in English. In 2009, Dubai Chamber launched the first Arabic version of the COO guidelines based on the English document. Such work is part of the Chamber’s efforts to encourage all organizations issuing COOs to base their work on the highest international standards and practices.

The number of Certificates of Origin issued by the Chamber in 2009 reached 559,303. Membership increased in 2009 to reach 108,489 compared to 103,620 in 2008.

Dubai Chamber also launched the first Arabic version of the international Certificate of Origin guidelines based on the English version published by the ICC World Chambers Federation. The translation initiative comes as part of the Chamber’s efforts to strengthen its status as a facilitator of business by encouraging all parties to issue Certificates of Origin (COO) based on the best international standards and practices.

Debt Collection

Given the overall rise in non-payment cases during 2009, the Chamber’s international debt collection services were much more active in 2009 than in 2008. This program is run in partnership with Coface, a leading international provider of insurance guarantees with over 60 years of experience. In 2009, Dubai Chamber handled cases worth an estimated AED 2.27 million.
Given the large amount of multinational business that is conducted in Dubai, determining which legal codes are applicable to a specific dispute can be quite a lengthy process. Mediation on the other hand, allows parties to come together to discuss legal practicalities and ways that both parties can move forward without seeking the intervention of formal legal bodies. Not only is the process incredibly cost effective, it also allows entities to resolve issues quickly and with full confidentiality.

During 2009, the Chamber had 930 registered cases compared to 408 mediation cases in 2008. Out of those, the Chamber has settled 301 cases approximately 32% of the cases.

Legal Seminars

The Chamber’s Legal Services Department increased the number of training seminars offered to Chamber members in 2009. The Department was able to coordinate a total of nine events throughout the year focusing on regional topics as well as international issues.

Themes for 2009 Workshops:

- Alternate Dispute Resolution Workshop
- Roundtable Discussion on Madrid System
- Consumer Protection Against Counterfeiting Seminar
- Copyright Training Course
- Drafting & Negotiating Licensing Agreements
- Debt Collection
- Establishing, Protecting and Licensing a Brand
- UCP 600 & ISBP Seminar

CASE STUDY

Roundtable on Madrid System

The Madrid System is an 84 member body and is a key tool for international registration of Trade Marks and benefits. UAE is not part of this system, which is why the Chamber hosted this roundtable discussion highlighting the importance of the Madrid System. A consultant from the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) was invited to explain the system and its advantages, and an official from the Bahrain Ministry of Industry and Commerce discussed Bahrain’s experience of becoming a member. Forty attendants from various sectors of the Dubai economy were in attendance.

Dubai International Arbitration Centre

The Dubai International Arbitration Center (DIAC) plays a crucial role within Dubai Chamber in providing arbitration services and alternate dispute resolution in settling commercial disputes. The body is fundamentally different than the mediation done within the Chamber’s Legal Services Department. At DIAC, parties agree to come together under the DIAC arbitration rules—a single legal code developed by DIAC which carries binding authority.

DIAC was evaluated in a 2009 study done by Forte Consultancy Group in which DIAC achieved tremendous benchmarking results among 13 well known international arbitration centres.

In 2009, there were 292 new cases brought before DIAC, a 192% increase from 2008.
This required a number of additional case managers and arbitrators to be brought on during the year. Given the large population of lawyers and international companies in Dubai, DIAC is able to maintain extremely high criteria in selecting arbitrators for individual disputes. Out of the 357 arbitrator applications in 2009, only 178 were accepted.

Associate Member Online Portal

CASE STUDY
UAE Federal Arbitration Law

Dubai International Arbitration Center (DIAC) at Dubai Chamber organized an open dialogue and roundtable discussion on the implementation of the proposed UAE Federal Arbitration Law. The roundtable provided a fitting platform for local arbitrators to exchange views and experiences with their international counterparts. Discussions focused on the drafting and implementation of the Arbitration Act in the visiting arbitrators’ countries, whose own models could be utilized for drafting the UAE Federal Arbitration Law.

As a registered associate member of DIAC, individuals can enjoy a wide range of advantages and opportunities presented through a newly-revamped online portal scheduled to launch in the beginning of 2010. The portal gives users the ability to find all information about the Centre’s arbitration services, the applicable arbitration rules and laws, information about DIAC events, and useful templates and application forms that aim to aid users of DIAC services. Through this system, DIAC will also be able to administer the online applications for arbitrators and associate members. Case managers will be given the ability to acquire decisions relating to BOT and EC matters. Furthermore, the system will provide an online library and directory to association members, as well as being a forum for discussion.

Training Courses and Conferences

DIAC supports the development of local businesses by highlighting the importance of arbitration in creating a favourable business environment. In 2009, DIAC organized a total of 15 meetings and workshops. These included a Roundtable Discussion on the UAE Federal Arbitration Law; DIAC Arbitration Dialogues in which members of the centre can meet DIAC officials and its executive committee members; and a conference on Effectiveness of the ADR under the Court Systems.

In July, DIAC also signed a cooperation agreement with Malta Arbitration Centre to exchange relevant experiences and develop a list of arbitrators between the two centres.

Decree NO. 58/2009

During the latter part of 2009 there was an amendment to the DIAC Statute established by Decree NO. 10/2004. In this new amendment, Decree NO. 58/2009, DIAC was recognized as an official entity of Dubai Chamber. This gives DIAC new responsibilities in terms of serving the commercial community of Dubai in addition to providing arbitration services to the international commercial community.

CASE STUDY

Jehad Kazim appointed DIAC Deputy Director

As part of Dubai Chamber’s Emiratisation programme, which aims at promoting individuals with specific skills and experience in a particular area, Jehad Kazim was appointed as Deputy Director of DIAC in 2009. In addition to her new role at DIAC, she will remain Director of the Legal Services Department at Dubai Chamber. She is the first Emirati woman to hold such a high position within arbitration in the Gulf region.
Advancing Dubai as a Trade Capital

For decades Dubai has been a gateway for international business and a hub of commercial activity. As the city continues to expand, Dubai Chamber works to promote the city as an international trade capital by building international alliances and hosting trade events.

Agreements & MOUs

Whether it is agreeing on standard practices or vowing to work cooperatively towards a future goal, the Chamber believes that building third party relationships is imperative to strengthening Dubai businesses and creating a favourable business environment within the Emirate.

In addition to partnerships with groups such as the Hamburg Chamber of Commerce, Oxford Group and Coface, in 2009 Dubai Chamber signed a new MOU with EmCredit, the UAE’s first government-backed credit bureau, on raising awareness on the role of credit information in facilitating trade credit between businesses. Other endeavours included an MOU with the Department of Internationalization in the Marche Region of Italy, and hosting the signing of a strategic partnership agreement between S.S. Lootah Group and UKE International Office.

Events & Exhibitions

Public engagement is the most direct way of educating the world on the Dubai economy and the actions of Dubai Chamber. As such, the Chamber accepted 40 sponsorship, endorsement and partnership proposals during 2009 out of the 208 proposals requested during the year. This marked a 40% increase from 2008, a major achievement for Dubai Chamber.

During 2009, the Chamber hosted its first annual Dubai Business Gala under the title “Celebrating Cultural Diversity”. Held under the patronage of HH Sheikh Ahmed bin Saeed Al Maktoum, President of Dubai Civil Aviation Authority, Chairman of Dubai Airports and Chief Executive of Emirates Airline & Group, the Dubai Business Gala aims at providing an exceptional platform for local and international businesses to build up new trade relations, exchange expertise and explore commercial opportunities within an entertaining atmosphere. Around 1300 local and international business leaders were in attendance this past year.

Inbound Delegations

Receiving foreign delegates is one of the ways that Dubai Chamber highlights the investment
Dubai Chamber received 220 delegation visits in 2009 from all over the world. Over 2,000 individuals came to Dubai as part of these delegations, representing the governments of countries such as Germany, Italy, Thailand, United Kingdom and Vietnam.

Outbound Delegations

The Chamber is always looking to explore new markets and search for investment opportunities by sending delegations abroad. In 2009, the focus was mainly on markets within Latin America and the African continent.

Dubai Chamber sponsored eight outbound delegations during 2009 to participate in functions around the globe. These forums are a valuable opportunity for Dubai Chamber to clarify and strengthen the world’s understanding of Dubai business. This year’s delegations travelled to countries such as Brazil, China, Italy and Malaysia.

Dubai Chamber was also the Diamond Sponsor of the 6th World Chambers Congress held in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. Organised by the ICC World Chambers Federation (WCF) and hosted by the Federation of Malaysian Manufacturers (FMM), the Congress was held under the theme of “Leading Sustainable Growth and Change”. As a participant, the Chamber showcased its various services and the advantages of establishing business in the Emirate. On the concluding day of the Congress, HE Eng Hamad Buamim, Director General of Dubai Chamber, spoke at a workshop on “Chambers and the Environment”, highlighting Dubai’s efforts in tackling environmental challenges and the business benefits of doing so. The Chamber also submitted a bid to host the World Chambers Congress in 2013 based on the Emirate’s geographic accessibility and exceptional infrastructure.

CASE STUDY
ICC Banking Commission

In association with International Chambers of Commerce (ICC Paris), Dubai Chamber hosted the annual ICC Banking Commission meeting in March 2009. Being organized for the first time in the Gulf, the high-profile event, titled “2009: Crossroads for Trade and Technology”, was attended by delegates representing WTO, the World Bank and leading global trade and finance banks from over 100 countries. Participants discussed themes such as anti money-laundering regulatory initiatives, task force cooperation, and a major ICC study on turmoil in the trade finance markets. Around 300 international trade and finance representatives attended the event.

Appointments within World Chambers Federation & Congress Bid for 2013

In recognition of Dubai’s role as an international trading hub and Dubai Chamber as a leading Chamber in the region, HE Eng Hamad Buamim, Director General of Dubai Chamber, was selected for the coveted post of Vice Chairman of the World Chambers Federation (WCF), the International Chamber of Commerce’s department responsible for international chamber affairs. The post is a three-year mandate from January 2010 to December 2013. During the WCF’s most recent World Chambers Congress in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, Dubai Chamber also submitted a bid to host the World Chambers Congress in 2013, based on the Emirate’s geographic accessibility and strong infrastructure.
Institutional Excellence

As both a partner and representative of the Dubai business community, leading by example is one of the core values of Dubai Chamber. That responsibility was even more important in 2009 as the world called for a greater level of transparency and accountability in business operations. The Chamber managed to renew its ISO 9001:2008 Certification from the Bureau Veritas based on the standards set by the UK Accreditation Services.

Investing in Human Resources

At Dubai Chamber, we recognize that employees are our strongest asset and work hard to provide one of the best working environments in Dubai. Sustaining a culture of high productivity is only possible through creating a comfortable and healthy work environment. In 2009, this included the adoption of a Flexitime Work Schedule, a minimum vacation period of two consecutive weeks, and annual medical check-ups. Such efforts allow us to attract and retain excellent staff that can assist us in our mission of representing, supporting and protecting the interests of Dubai’s business community.

In 2009, the Chamber jumped 11 ranks within the Dubai Government Excellence Programme’s Employee Satisfaction Ranking, moving from 13th place to 2nd place. Dubai Chamber employee satisfaction surveys showed an overall satisfaction of 82%, an incredible 20% increase in the last three years. For these and other achievements, Senior Director of Institutional Support & HR Director Azzah Al-Sharhan was awarded the GCC HR Excellence Award at the Human Assets Expansion Middle East Congress 2009.

Despite the global recession, 2009 was a big year for new recruitment and talent retention. The Chamber welcomed 42 new employees to the team; a growth of more than 7% from 2008. This culturally diverse group is made up of 26 nationalities with Emiratis making up about 50%. Women represent half of the total workforce and 25% of the Chamber’s executive management team. The Chamber has also adopted a new policy of providing equal opportunity for job seekers with special needs.

In terms of employee training, the Chamber targets an average of five working days per employee to be dedicated to training and development. During 2009, the average number of training days per employee was 8.5 days, far beyond the expectations for the year.

Building Vibrant Communities

Dubai Chamber recognises that healthy and vibrant communities ultimately contribute to the success of business.

In the field of healthcare, Dubai Chamber worked to raise awareness and funds for...

Gaza Children, the UAE Down Syndrome Association, Dubai Autism Centre, and Emirates Medical Association. Partnering with organizations like the Ministry of Health, the Chamber has provided ongoing support to the “Making It Our Business” breast cancer awareness program in cooperation with the private sector. Dubai Chamber also worked with Al Noor Centre for Children with Special Needs to hire two new staff, and donated furniture, lighting and other materials to the Future Centre for Special Needs and the Sheikh Mohammed Centre for Cultural Understanding (SMCCU).

Higher education is another major area of the Chamber’s community CSR work. In its partnership with the University of Dubai, around AED 7 million are allocated every year to support students and faculty. In 2009, these funds were used in 48 student scholarships. The Chamber also offered two floors of its own building to University of Dubai for use, in addition to providing the University with busses and administrative services.

Other 2009 campaigns that the Chamber endorsed or sponsored include: Earth Hour, Dubai International Holy Quran Award, UN-led “Seal the Deal” campaign on climate change, UN Stand Up for the Millennium Development Goals, World Health and Safety at Work Day, World No Tobacco Day and World Diabetes Day.

In 2010, Dubai Chamber will be expanding on the above efforts as well as developing a new corporate volunteer program that should be launched before the year’s end.

Supporting Environmental Sustainability

Dubai Chamber believes that there is great potential within the business community to improve resource management while reducing costs and enhancing overall competitiveness. As a representative of the Dubai business community, the Chamber has undertaken numerous initiatives to improve its environmental performance.

In 2009, Dubai Chamber became the first building in the Arab world and one of only four outside of North America to achieve the LEED green building certification for existing buildings; a testament to years of efforts in this field. Between 1998 and 2008, the Chamber was able to reduce water consumption by 77% and electricity consumption by 47%, leading to over AED 7 million in savings. Such achievements were the result of installing many new green building practices such as lighting and water sensors, bicycle parking and showering facilities, and green cleaning practices.

These efforts will continue in 2010 as the Chamber completes its building refurbishments. Other 2010 initiatives include expanding e-services to enhance efficiency and save paper resources, as well as encouraging others to save money by adopting green building practices.

Dubai Chamber was awarded for such efforts in receiving first prize in the Green Buildings Category of the Dubai Environment, Health and Safety (EHS) award from Trakhees-Ports, Customs & Free Zone Corporation (PCFC).

Multimedia Projects

In representing the interests of the Dubai Business Community, Dubai Chamber initiated a number of new programs during 2009 to strengthen its online presence and facilitate information-sharing via multimedia platforms.

The Dubai Chamber website went through a major overhaul during the first months of 2009 with a new platform being launched this past June. The purpose of the overhaul was to transform the website into an interactive portal with information not only related to Dubai Chamber, but other national and global business as well. Major innovations included the addition of an online payments section, a new multimedia gallery, and the introduction of Dubai Chamber Online TV. In 2010, Dubai Chamber plans on making the entire website hand-held so that members can make payments, update their profile, and receive event notification all from the convenience of their smartphones.

As a result, the number of monthly website hits rose by over 25% during 2009.

In recognition of these achievements, Dubai Chamber received the first place award for Best Website developed by an Arab civic society organization in the HH Sheikh Salem Al Ali Al Sabah Informatics Contest 2009, presented by HH the Amir of Kuwait Sheikh Sabah Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah. The award aims to encourage a modern and complete electronic society while developing human skills and institutional knowledge in the field of information, culture, and electronic applications. The Dubai Chamber website also earned the 2nd Place Award for Best Government Website at the UAE Web Awards 2009.

Internally, a new intranet system was launched in 2009 to improve Chamber communications while strengthening inter-department coordination. Being a Responsible Business

With over 100,000 members and a crucial role as the facilitator between business and government, we recognise that we can make a significant contribution to Dubai by encouraging change which provides economic, social and environmental benefits beyond the boundaries of our own offices. We do this in two main ways. Firstly, by managing our own environmental and social impacts, through a number of community, workplace and environmental initiatives that are improving our performance in these areas and helping sustainable thinking and acting to permeate every level of our organisation, activities and culture. Secondly, by encouraging such change among our members, through awards, our Centre for Responsible Business, policy advocacy and other marketplace initiatives.

In 2009, we raised funds and supported Gaza Children, the UAE Down Syndrome Association, Dubai Autism Centre, and Emirates Medical Association. We worked with the Al Noor Centre for Children with Special Needs to hire two staff, and donated furniture, lighting and other materials to the Future Centre for Special Needs and the SMRCCU. We also trained staff about UAE culture and the local dialect, so that they can better integrate and support the local heritage, and about various health issues such as breast cancer and diabetes.

We also endorsed various campaigns, from Earth Hour and Heroes of the UAE in collaboration with EWS-WWF, to No Tobacco Day, World Health and Safety at Work Day, and the Millennium Development Goals. We also ran a blood donation drive, and sponsored initiatives like the Burjuman walkathon. At the same time, we provided ongoing support to the Making It Our Business breast health program and the University of Dubai, which we founded back in 1997. The Chamber also endorsed the Dubai International Holy Quran Award and hosted its activities at its premises.

Since 1998, Dubai Chamber has undertaken numerous initiatives to improve its environmental performance, particularly in terms of energy and water use. For example, in 2003 we started capturing water from our air-conditioning systems to use in our fountain. Such improvements have allowed us to reduce electricity consumption by approximately 47% and water consumption by 77%, saving 25.9 million units of electricity and 41.5 million units of water which translates into AED 7.1 million between 1998 and 2008. In 2007 we began focussing on waste and introduced our recycling system in early 2008 to separate paper, plastics, and electronics for reuse. In 2008 we also began working on sustainable transport, and now have bicycle and motorcycle parking, as well as VIP parking for staff and free valet parking for customers driving fuel efficient vehicles. This year, we became the 1st building in the Arab world and one of only 4 outside of North America to achieve the LEED green building certification for existing buildings, a testament to our years of efforts in this field.
